

SUNDAY MONITOR

FEBRUARY 12, 2012

CONCORD

NEW HAMPSHIRE

$2

Your local source for news, sports and weather all day long: concordmonitor.com

GREG LINDSTROM / Monitor staff

Jack Twarog, 7, of Franklin, plays his own game of hockey with a rock on the bleachers yesterday during the 1883 Black Ice Pond Hockey Championships at White Park in Concord. For more images, see Local & State, B1.

LOCAL & STATE

EXTENDED INTERMISSION

B

FEBRUARY 12, 2012
SUNDAY MONITOR
concordmonitor.com

Mother Nature strikes again. The unseasonably warm weather yesterday forced officials to postpone afternoon and evening games at the 1883 Black Ice Pond Hockey Championship at White Park in Concord.

Top: Tournament officials clear loose ice off the rinks at White Park.

Above left: Slushy ice clings to the skates of David Sinclair of team Pond Jovi during a morning game.

Above right: Tournament committee member Tom Philbrick moves ice to patch a hole in one of the rinks.

Left: Ken Bradley and other officials chip in.

PHOTOS BY GREG LINDSTROM